QUARRIES

Our Slate, Phyllite and Quartzite, offers proven quality not only by technological tests, but also by its monumental sustainability in our environment, in place for centuries. Since the King Felipe II began its extraction to cover the Roofs of the Monastery of El Escorial (1563), there are many Works in which its quality and resistance were demonstrated over time, as well as its beauty and aesthetic contribution to the most unique Projects .

Since our facilities in Segovia and in Madrid, we distribute an exclusive material that will give your Project a unique and inimitable touch, as only the natural Stone can offer.

In addition, we guarantee you the best service, by controlling the Quality at all levels, in strict compliance with the Quality standards in each Country. Our strength in the distribution of natural stone and our experience, are based on
